NEWS RELEASE – Upcoming Cold Weather Days

The national and local weather forecasts along with area Emergency Management Agencies have alerted all of us of near record cold and wind chills. To facilitate the arrangements of plans and schedules, we want to notify all parents, staff and students that school will not be in session on Wednesday January 30, 2019. We will still post and send out notifications through all our current media contacts but wanted everyone to have this advance notification so plans could be made as soon as possible. We will monitor forecasts closely for Thursday as well for continued cold and wind chill conditions. We will work to provide you early notification, if possible for this day as well. These two days would be made up at the end of the year, per board policy.
